"The honeymoon with the BJP is over, but it does not mean that both sides have forever lost the capacity to work together. They have just lost the capacity to work together, while they haven't lost the capacity to listen to each other," Gupta told people. He alleged that in the last two years, the BJP leaders have been trying to silence every voice that does not chant 'Modi, Modi' while expecting journalists to be indulgent. Gupta who was here to attend the 16th International Festival of Indian Cinema's (IFC) World Film Festival, said that while the BJP won the Lok Sabha elections in general elections, they have failed to provide a narrative to the people about why they fought the polls. "In elections they tried to take all the symbolism and symbolism away from the so-called other parties (Congress and Aam Admi Party). They have tried to prevent the Parliament from functioning," he said
